

Certified Associate Project Management (CAPM)[®] Exam Preparation Training

Why the CAPM[®] certification?

Respected across all industries, and one of the top 15 project management certifications; the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM)[®] certification demonstrates the ability to handle the responsibility of managing a product or service life-cycle and is well suited to people working in and around projects.

For a new or emerging Project Manager or member of a project team, the CAPM[®] certification is one of the best ways to push your career and build a foundation of professional project management.

- Foster confidence & professional growth
- Enhance project management skills
- Create a framework focusing on value when delivering change

Millpond is an Authorized Training Partner (A.T.P.) with the Project Management Institute, Inc (PMI)[®].

Training with an Authorized Training Partner ensures you are trained:

- By an organization you can trust

CAPM® prerequisites

- Secondary degree (high school diploma, associate's degree or the global equivalent).
- 23 hours* of project management education completed by the time you sit the exam.

* This course meets the required education hours.

The content of the course material was better than expected. Our trainer obviously has extensive knowledge of project management and presenting that practical experience with the topics she covered really helped me understand it better. I entered this training thinking it's one of those normal online courses which might not be relevant or beneficial for my development, but I was wrong.

I will now leave this training with much more knowledge of the best practice in Project Management so thank you.
